Fund

Investment Objective: The fund aims to provide income and capital growth in excess of the US Consumer Price Index plus 3% after fees have been deducted over a three to five year period by investing in equities of real estate companies worldwide.

Investment Process: The Schroder ISF Global Cities Fund is managed by Tom Walker and Hugo Machin. The exposure to global cities and niche operators in those cities is a function of a data driven investment process. The investment process for the fund includes,

- The two stage investment process identifies companies in the strongest Global Cities with the strongest operating platforms in those markets.
- The four proprietary databases used in Stage 1 provide the 'Impact scores' to assess every company's portfolio:
 - Economic Impact score: quantifies locations with the strongest and most resilient economic growth
 - University Impact score: quantifies locations with the highest levels of innovation and talent
 - Transport Impact score: quantifies the most connected locations in a city.
 - Environmental Impact score: quantifies environmental risks relevant to each location
- Stage 2 of the process systematically highlights the correct weight of a company in the portfolio, based on operational excellence and compelling valuation.
- A portfolio derived from the two stages will hold companies with real pricing power, operational competitive advantage and a sound balance sheet, at an attractive valuation.

Investment Parameters: The key investment parameters of the Fund are,

- The fund is actively managed and invests at least two-thirds of its assets in equities of real estate companies worldwide.
- The fund may invest in cities that the investment manager believes will exhibit continued economic growth, supported by factors such as strong infrastructure and supportive planning regimes.
- The fund is managed with reference to material environmental, social and governance factors.
- The fund may assess companies based on issues such as climate change, environmental performance, labor standards or board composition that could impact a company's value.
- The fund may also invest directly or indirectly in other securities (including other asset classes), countries, regions, industries or currencies, investment funds, warrants and money market investments, and hold cash.
- The fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the fund more efficiently.
- Investors may redeem their investment upon demand. The fund deals daily.
